

18.1. AT THE BUS STOP. Ersetze die fettgedruckten Nomen durch die entsprechenden Pronomen.

It

A girl is waiting for a bus. The bus is late. A boy comes up to the bus stop.

The boy looks at the girl. The girl looks at the boy.

The girl says hello to the boy and the boy says hello to the girl.

The girl and the boy talk for a while. Then the bus comes.

The bus takes the boy and the girl into town.

18.2. Do it! Don't do it!

Für Befehle brauchen wir einfach die Grundform. Verneinte Befehle haben ein "don't" vor der Grundform. Ausrufezeichen müssen im Englischen nicht unbedingt gesetzt werden, wenn es kein lauter Ausruf ist.

Befehl	Verneinter Befehl
Go home.	Don't go home.
Eat the hamburger.	Don't eat the hamburger.
Read the newspaper.
	Don't watch those movies.
Go skiing in the Alps.
	Don't believe her.
Tidy up your room.
	Don't jump over the fence.
Fly to New York.
	Don't buy any red roses for her.

18.3. Homonymes.

Wörter, die gleich tönen, die aber eine verschiedene Schreibweise haben:

- it's und its                    ....It's.... a nice day today. The dog hasn't eaten ..... dinner yet.
- their und they're            ..... having ..... lunch at an expensive restaurant.
- to, too und two                I'm going ..... the shops .....buy ..... T-shirts. – Can you buy me one, .....?
- hour (Stunde) und our        ..... football coach always says: ..... will come!
- here und hear (hören)        Come ..... ! I can't ..... you!
- know und no                    I ..... you have ..... interest in American football.
- right und write                Please ..... the ..... answer here.
- see und sea (Meer)            Can you ..... the..... from here?