

Eric Bogle

Now when I was a young man I ..... my pack
 And I ..... the free life of the rover. a wanderer
 From the Murray's green basin to the dusty .....
 Well, I waltzed my Matilda all over.
 Then in 1915, ..... said, "Son,
 It's time you stop ramblin', there's work to be ....."
 So they ..... me a tin hat, and they gave me a .....
 And they marched me ..... to the war.

And the band ..... "Waltzing Matilda,"
 As the ..... pulled away from the quay,
 And amidst all the cheers, the flag waving, and .....
 We ..... off for Gallipoli.

And how well I ..... that terrible day,
 How our ..... stained the sand and the water;
 And of how in that ..... that they call Suvla Bay
 We were butchered like ..... at the slaughter.
 Johnny Turk, he was waitin', he primed himself .....;
 He showered us with ....., and he rained us with shell --
 And in five ..... flat, he'd blown us all to hell,
 ..... blew us right back to Australia.

But the ..... played "Waltzing Matilda,"
 When we ..... to bury our slain,

Well, we buried ....., and the Turks buried .....
 Then we started all over .....

And those that were left, well, we ..... to survive
 In that ..... of blood, death and fire.
 And for ten weary ..... I kept myself alive
 Though ..... me the corpses piled higher.
 Then a big Turkish shell ..... me arse over head,
 And when I ..... in my hospital bed

50.000 soldiers of Australia died at Gallipoli in a stupid and pointless campaign, which was a lot for a small country like Australia. Every April, a march is held on ANZAC DAY to commemorate the Gallipoli landings during the first World War, and the dead of the other wars. Australia takes it so seriously that the pubs are closed, the only day in the year this happens. Like all memorial parades it is both moving and yet somewhat pointless and pathetic. This song was written after observing one such parade. E.B.

with coloured marks

where animals are killed

get ready for action

grenades

place in a grave - killed

sad

bodies

buttocks

And saw what it had done, well, I wished I was ..... -- Never knew there was ..... things than dying.

For I'll go ..... "Waltzing Matilda,"
All around the ..... bush far and free --
To hump tents and pegs, a man ..... both legs,
No more "Waltzing Matilda" for me.

A "Matilda" was the name given to the pack of an Australian Bushman. To "Waltz Matilda" (vergl. Deutsch: „auf der Walz sein“) was to carry your pack around the bush.

put on one's back –peg: pin to fasten the tent

So they gathered the crippled, the ....., the maimed,
And they shipped us ..... home to Australia.
The ....., the legless, the blind, the insane,
Those ..... wounded heroes of Suvla.
And as our ..... sailed into Circular Quay,
I looked at the place where me legs ..... to be,
And thanked Christ there was ..... waiting for me,
To grieve, to mourn and to .....

collect, injured

mentally ill

sorrow - regret

But the ..... "Waltzing Matilda,"
As they ..... us down the gangway,
But nobody cheered, they just stood and .....,
Then they ..... all their faces away.

And so now every April, I ..... on my porch
And I ..... the parade pass before me.
And I see my old comrades, ..... proudly they march,
Reviving old ..... of past glory,
And the old ..... march slowly, all bones stiff and sore,
They're tired old heroes from a ..... war
And the ..... people ask "What are they marching for?"
And I ask myself the ..... question.

entrance

reason for pride

painful

But the band plays "Waltzing Matilda,"
And the old men still ..... the call,
But as year ..... year, more old men disappear
Some day, no one will march there .....