

American film star and Hollywood idol.

Norma Baker had a miserable childhood in Los Angeles. She lived in different homes because her mother was mentally ill.

After working as a model and in small film roles, she has her first important role in "Niagara" in 1953. Now she is known as Marilyn Monroe. She is also a singer. Her most famous song is "Diamonds are a Girl's Best Friend". Two of her best films, „Gentlemen Prefer Blondes“ and „Some Like it Hot“, show she is a fine comic actress. However, she also takes serious, dramatic roles in films like „The Misfits“ („Nicht gesellschaftsfähig“), her last film, in 1961.

She was married three times, including to baseball star Joe DiMaggio and Arthur Miller, who wrote „The Misfits“ for her. She died from a drug overdose in 1962. Even now, many years after her death, she is remembered as one of the most beautiful stars of cinema history.
