John was coming out of church, and the vicar was standing at the door, as he always was to shake hands. He grabbed John by the hand and pulled him aside. The vicar said, "You need to join the Army of the Lord!" John replied, "I'm already in the Army of the Lord, Vicar." So the vicar asked, "Why I don't see you except at Christmas and Easter?" He whispered back, "I'm in the secret service."

A French guest, staying in a hotel in Edmonton phoned room service for some pepper. "Black pepper, or white pepper?" asked the concierge. "Toilette pepper!" he insisted.

A flying saucer was low on fuel, so it landed by a filling station on a lonely country road. On its side were the letters UFO. The attendant was stunned, but also curious.

"Does that stand for Unidentified Flying Object?" he asked.

"No," one of the little green men answered, "It stands for Unleaded Fuel Only."

flying saucer: fliegende Untertasse, stunned: erstaunt,

unleaded fuel: bleifreies Benzin

A pregnant woman from Washington DC has a car accident and falls into a deep coma. Nearly 6 months later she awakes to find that she is no longer pregnant and, frantically, asks the doctor about her baby.

The doctor replies, "Ma'am you had twins! A boy and a girl. Your brother from Maryland came in and named them."

The woman thinks to herself, "No, not my brother! The idiot!" So she asks the doctor, "Well, what's the girl's name?"

"Denise."

"Wow, that's not a bad name, I like it! What's the boy's name?"

"Denephew."

Why do the French like snails?

Because they don't like fast food.

In a restaurant a customer was continually bothering the waiter. First, he asked that the air conditioning be turned up because he was too cold, then he asked that it be turned down because he was too hot, and so it went for about a half an hour. Surprisingly, the waiter was very patient. He walked back and forth and never once got angry. Another customer asked the waiter why he didn't throw out the pest. "Oh, I don't mind," said the waiter with a smile. "We don't actually have an air conditioner that works."
